The John A. Hartford Foundation Age-Friendly Health Systems Scholarships

In 2017, The John A. Hartford Foundation and the Institute for Healthcare Improvement, in partnership with the American Hospital Association and the Catholic Health Association of the United States, set a bold vision to build a social movement so that all care with older adults is age-friendly care.

To continue to enhance this work, The John A. Hartford Foundation is providing scholarships for a cohort of Age-Friendly Fellows who will participate in the AHA Next Generation Leaders Fellowship. These applicants will be asked to implement at least one of the components of the 4Ms Framework at their organization for their capstone project in the fellowship program.

About the Program

The 12-month program will be bookended with in-person meetings beginning with the opening event on June 24-25 in Chicago. The majority of the program will take place virtually. After the instructional phase, fellows will work with their mentor to execute a capstone project specific to a challenge within their organization. The program will conclude at the AHA Leadership Summit in July 2025 where fellows will present their project solution to their peers, faculty and other conference attendees.

Who Should Apply

This is a competitive fellowship program for health care leaders who are accomplished in their careers and expected to rise to the top of their fields in the next five to ten years. The program aims to select a cohort of leaders who bring diverse perspectives and experiences from a variety of settings: clinical, strategy and operational backgrounds with strong a strong foundation in quality, safety, affordability and are looking to implement an age-friendly project at their organization.
